Dinosaur Workshop

The children at Tweeddale really enjoyed their day pretending to be Palaeontologists. Using brushes, the children had to dig and sweep away the sand to reveal a range of hidden fossils. The children then had to identify what the dinosaur was and where about the fossil came from on the dinosaur. The children learnt what herbivores, carnivores and omnivores were. Friday afternoon, the children met two dinosaurs in assembly

Lots of children had the opportunity to stroke the Tyrannosaurs- Rex and realised it wasn't that scary! Judging by the amount of squeals and laughter that was heard throughout the school, the children had an amazing time.

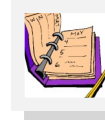

We would like to thank Miss Digman for organising such a brilliant workshop for the children.

We would also like to thank the parents who contributed to this event. If it was not for your donations this workshop would not of been able to go ahead.

POETRY CORNER

Welcome to our planet
It's name is Earth
This poem is meant to, well
Explain it's birth

Jupiter did the first thing
It went on a rampage
It moved inwards to the Sun
Like a giant in a rage

Nearby Ceres was forming
Becoming a planet
When Jupiter went on the rampage
He pushed away all the rock Ceres could get

So Jupiter came inwards
Keen on being bad
But luckily it went back again
And I think that's rad

When going back
Jupiter pushed the ice
Back to young Earth
That's pretty nice

So I need to say thank you
To the giant made of gas
It gave us the water
And added to Earth's mass!
