

Dear Parents/Carers,

Next week will be Enterprise Week when all classes will be busy making Christmas goodies. The week finishes with the PTFA Christmas Fair at 3.30pm on Friday. This week we are proud to let you know that Lisa Taylor, our Nursery teacher, has had her first book 'Beach' published. It's a lovely story aimed at younger children. It is available on Amazon and there will be a copy in our school library.

Foundation Stage

In Nursery this week, the children have been learning about the season of winter. They have been making pretty snowflake pictures and also matching mittens.

This week in Reception, the children have been busy planning and designing their items they are going to sell to the school. They have been learning and recognising the different value of coins we use everyday and have decided how much they want to sell their items for. They have also thought about and written down the ingredients they will need and the recipe they are going to follow. The children are working really hard to recognise and write their sounds, keep practising this at home.

LKS2 News

Year 3 enjoyed a fabulous trip to the Science Museum this week. The children really enjoyed going on the buses and tubes, as well as seeing all the amazing scientific discoveries on display. There were ancient telescopes, a full size skeleton, very old, large computers and even a man who tried to fly by attaching wings to his arms. The favourite exhibit of all was the astronaut landing on the moon. This trip will certainly inspire the children to take great interest in learning about forces as well as animals and humans.

UKS2 News (Years 5 and 6)

Both Year 5 and Year 6 have been designing their products for Enterprise week next week. They have been working out the cost, materials needed and how long products will take to create. We are looking forward to making the products ordered next week.

KS1 News (Years 1 & 2)

During English, Year 2 have been reading 'The Frog Prince' and carrying out activities to immerse them further into the story. They have then used this to write some fantastic expanded noun phrases. In Science they have been learning about everyday materials and exploring what they can make out of them. With this deeper knowledge of materials they carried out an investigation to find out which was the most appropriate material for mending the soles of a plimsoll, the children really enjoyed this.
